One of the audacious entrepreneurs of all time, Sri M.C. Jacob founded the Anna Aluminium Company in 1968 which has become a leading manufacturer of pure aluminium products. Hailing from an affluent family of plantation owners, Sri Jacob was a Public Works Department contractor. He made an breakthrough in the aluminium industry, when he happened to learn that not only do Tamil Nadu-based companies manufacture aluminium utensils using the scrap from the INDAL plant in Kalamasserry (his neighboring panchayat) but also sell the same at a profit in Kerala.

Anna Group started out as an aluminium products manufacturer over 43 years ago, and expanded into other sectors such as food and spices, textiles and more. The group is committed to quality and highly adept in identifying new business opportunities and challenges.

Manufacturing Processes

Aluminum cookware is manufactured principally by the following methods: Stamping, Drawing or Cold Forming: In these methods, flat sheets or circles rolled to the desired thickness are placed on a press. The press then forms the sheet metal into the desired shape. Afterward, both inside and outside finishes are applied, and appropriate handles and knobs are attached. The thickness can vary from 1.8 to 5.0mm.

Casting: Molten aluminum is poured into molds specially designed for each different cookware utensil. It can be gravity cast or pressure cast aluminum. Gravity die casting is suitable for small productions and produces a purer substrate with no outgassing issues. Pressure die casting is the most common process. The liquid metal is injected at high speed and high pressure into a metal mould. Both the machine and its dies are very expensive, but it's a much faster process. In this process, special precautions must be taken to avoid too many gas inclusions which causes outgassing during subsequent heat-treatment or welding of the casting product.

ENGINEERING AND TECHNOLOGY,

Aluminum utensils are manufactured with a wide variety of finishes. Stamped and drawn utensils may have exterior finishes of polished natural aluminum, chrome plate, anodized (with or without color), porcelain enamel coatings, nonstick coatings or colored organic coatings (acrylics, polyamides, etc.). Usually bottoms have a satin finish or are porcelain enamel coated; both finishes help absorb heat. Cast aluminum utensils may have exterior finishes of colored porcelain enamel coating, polished, hammered or velva-glazed natural surfaces, colored organic coating, or hard-coat anodized surfaces.

The inside finish on aluminum utensils may be a natural finish, "sunray" or "spun" finish, high polish finish, hard-coat anodized finish or nonstick coating. Hard anodized aluminum has become a popular substrate for higher end aluminum cookware lines.

Feedback

It is very useful to gain knowledge about how the utensils are manufactured. An old factory making aluminium utensils for daily use. The promoters are still keeping the factory alive by producing more vessels.

Feedback :

The basic objective of this visit is to demonstrate the machines, actual working on machines and latest technologies by young and innovative minds. It helps us to understand the recent technologies use in production and manufacturing of machine tools. We can also able to know how a small parts can be manufactured with the help of lathe machines.

PRODUCT & ITS APPLICATION:

Several size and shape of utensils and containers like pans, boiling cooker, frying pans, baking pans, etc. are used in cooking. Serving utensils consist of containers, trays, etc. Dining utensils include various sizes of plates, bowls and cutlery items like spoons, fork, spatula, knives etc. These products are made from clay, glass, ceramics, wood, and metals like cast iron, brass, bronze, copper, mild steel, stainless steel, and aluminum. Modern materials like plastics are also popular for non-cooking utensils. Aluminum has advantages over other materials due to better strength with lower weight, higher heat conductivity, resistance to heat, and easy pliability to shape.

Feedback

It is useful to gain knowledge about the properties of aluminium and known where the aluminium metals are extracted and how it is purified. Also known about the percentage of alloy mixed and types of alloys used.

Evolution of HMT

Our first Prime Minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru"s dream to build modern India paved the way for setting up of various Public sector undertakings in different industrial sectors. This initiative led to rapid industrialization of the country and he acknowledged the same as "Temples of Modern India". Hindustan Machine Tools Ltd. in the year 1953 was established with the same thought and was termed as "Jewel of Nation".

Introduction to HMT

When HMT was founded in 1953, it dedicated itself to a clear objective: empowering the emergence of Indian Industry. With the virtue of being founded on a strong technical base, HMT donned the role of a one-of-its kind precision engineering company. HMT leveraged its technical know-how, acquired from world leaders in machine tools, to arm a wide spectrum of industries with vital manufacturing machinery and solutions.

HMT Machine Tools' expertise in machine tools has been honed to a point that it can design and develop any kind of machine. From simple lathes to multi-station transfer lines, from stand-alone CNC machines to flexible manufacturing systems, leading to factory automation, HMT Machine Tools' Products cover general purpose machines, special purpose machines and CNC machines to meet the application needs of every engineering industry. To date, over 100,000 machine tools on par with international standards in quality and performance, manufacture by HMT, are in use all over India. The Company also manufactures sheet fed offset printing machines in single, two, four, and five colours, programmable paper guillotines, ball screws, and CNC Control Systems.

HMT's pioneering spirit and cutting-edge marketing abilities enable it to showcase its products and services to a worldwide clientele. The establishment of HMT (International)

Limited leveraged the Company's international trading experience. HMT(I) markets the products through a global network that extends over 40 countries to service its customers worldwide. HMT(I) has a diverse clientele with more than 18,000 machines in over 70 countries including the developed ones.

Technology and R&D

HMT Machine Tools has imbibed a wide range of technologies as a result of its diversification strategies, to be a truly multi-technology company. The list includes, though not limited to, the following technologies:

- High Speed Machining
- Hard Parts Turning
- Precision Machining
- Computer Numeric Controls
- Computer Integrated Manufacture
- Flexible Manufacturing Systems/ Modules/Cells
- Metal Forming including Die casting & Plastic processing

Feedback :

It helps us to understand the recent technologies use in production and manufacturing of machine tools. We can also able to know how a small parts can be manufactured with the help of lathe machines. Also the various CNC machines and their working are explained.

REPORT OF INDUSTRIAL VISIT

Dated: 8th July, 2015

We, the students of III IT (Batch-2013-2017) went for an industrial visit to Cochin and Munnar on 26th and 27th June, 2015. We were a crew consisting of 21 male students, 18 female students and 4 faculty members making a total of 43.

DAY - 1 (26/06/2015)

First we started from college on 25th June, 2015 by 11.00 pm and reached Munnar by 6.00 am. We refreshed ourselves in the hotel which we booked earlier named Munnar castle.

We had our breakfast by 8.30 am near the hotel that we checked -in and started to explore Munnar through jeep transport. First we visited Rose Garden and Top station, then we had our lunch at 1:30 pm and at the end of day we visited view -point and echo-point .Then we reached the hotel at 9:30 pm after having our Dinner. We stayed in Munnar for a night in the same hotel.

DAY - 2(27/06/2015)

We started from Munnar early by 6:00 am and reached Cochin by 11:00 am and we had our breakfast in the middle of our travel to Cochin.

We visited the CHIP SOFT Technologies, near Ernakulum Head Post Office, Kochi, Kerala on 27th June 2015. It is a software company providing customized solutions. They took us for a campus tour for nearly half an hour and then they gave us a presentation on advanced technologies like Cloud Infrastructures, their area of expertise, what they are actually doing inside a company and elaborated the students about the need of fresh knowledge from youngsters.

They clarified the students' queries on how to start a project, what are all the areas of research they can proceed with, what is their core on, and etc,. We had an interactive session with them and on a whole, the chance of visiting such industry was a great opportunity.

We left the company by 3.00 pm. Then we had our Lunch near the company. Then we made a visit to Munnar shopping bazaar which is located at Ernakulum. It was a huge and cheaper bazaar for Shopping and after 3 hrs of shopping we left the place by 6:00 pm.
